The President's Commission on Executive Exchange is one of this Administration's most effective vehicles to encourage and strengthen better understanding between government and business. The benefits that your agency can accrue by utilizing the considerable talents of the Commission's executives will have a positive impact on your agency's mission.

The Commission negotiates a one-year assignment for highly qualified, motivated executives from the business community. The President's continued commitment to this Program has been a significant factor in the placement of these highly capable executives in key positions.

At this time, the Commission is identifying exceptional business men and women for you to review and assign within your agency. To be most effective it is critical that an executive be assigned to a position to your immediate staff.
